What

w a t e r p i s t o l has successfully crowd funded their first EP Blue Waters through voordekunst.nl. With more than 70 individual contributors and a generous donation from Amsterdam Fonds voor de Kunst, they raised the needed amount to record and press the EP on vinyl.

So. This calls for a party. On August 8 at 20.00 it's time to celebrate and present the physical EP Blue Waters. Contributors through voordekunst, friends, family and relations are all invited to come have a drink at Galerie BMB on August 8, admire the work of Terence Brevé (responsible for the EP artwork), listen to w a t e r p i s t o l live and receive countless thank you's from James and Naomi.

About w a t e r p i s t o l

w a t e r p i s t o l is James Powell and Naomi Zeilemaker. A band of two who sing about love when it's working and when it's not; songs about the mind's habit of warring with itself; about holes and water.

The EP Blue Waters includes four songs and is now available online to listen and download at Spotify, iTunes, Amazon, Jamendo, Bandcamp, Soundcloud, etc.

Currently, w a t e r p i s t o l is touring a stripped down interpretation of the songs with guitar, percussion, and the singing. They plan to lay down another six songs between june and september - for release in the late autumn 2015.

About Terence Brevé

Born in 1981, Midden-Beemster. Autodidact. Painter. Terence mainly focuses on portraits of characters showing a slight absence and a mystical expression. The painting style of Terence tends towards a realistic approach. The characters he portrays, however, seem to have escaped to the surreal.
